

Biography

Brad Mueller

SEABURY OCI Advisors, LLC

Consultant

PROFILE Brad is a consultant in the Seabury OCI Workforce Analytics practice responsible for providing clients with financial analysis, cost modeling, and strategic advice regarding work force management. Brad's approach combines strong performance based consulting processes with a results oriented model focused on driving improved productivity, agility and competitive advantage, risk mitigation, cost reduction, innovation and the alignment of the work force with business goals.

Brad's areas of expertise include all aspects of regional airline strategy, financial analysis, due diligence, organizational structure and labor rate strategies. Brad has also managed large-scale analytical projects and developed effective cost reduction strategies.

PREVIOUS EXPERIENCE Prior to joining Seabury OCI, Brad spent nearly 17 years at Northwest Airlines where he held increasingly more responsible management positions in Market Planning, Fleet Planning and Regional Airline Finance. Brad has a deep appreciation of the challenges organizations face in driving data-driven decision making, having held key Human Resource analysis and workforce planning roles including the acquisition and placement of NWA's fleet of regional jets, overall schedule responsibility for all regional aircraft, analytical support of key strategic projects and multiple types of financial analysis and budgeting. He also worked exclusively with NWA's wholly owned regional airlines helping set up/certify Compass Airlines and developing a shared services organization and holding company to maximize cost savings and operational efficiencies.

EDUCATION AND PROFESSIONAL AFFILIATIONS

- B.A. Business Administration, Hamline University
- M.B.A, Finance and Marketing University of Chicago, Booth School of Business

"Driving business results through human capital."

Contact Information: bmueller@seaburyoci.com
612.638.1597 direct
612.252.9150 fax